

Tula Michaelides

Public Health Expert

Public health communications specialist for international and U.S. domestic programs

tula.michaelides@gmail.com

LinkedinContact

20 Years of experience

Professional Bio:

Tula is a public health communications specialist with extensive experience supporting global and domestic health programs across NIH, NCI, CDC, USAID, WHO, PAHO, private sector organizations, and other major public health institutions. She has technical expertise in global health security; pandemic and emerging infectious disease outbreak prevention, response, and control; risk and crisis communications; cancer, diabetes, and other chronic diseases; mental illness; and HIV/AIDS. Skills include knowledge management, organizational learning, multi-channel health awareness campaigns and writing in a broad variety of styles, from high to low-literacy levels, for both U.S. and international audiences.

Skills & Expertise:

Global Health; Proposal Writing; Stakeholder Engagement; Private Sector Engagement; Program/Project Management; Other: Communications

Sectors of Work:

International Development; Public Health

Languages Spoken:

English Greek, Spanish

JOIN US

contact@wice.org